Editorial Review

About the Author

Erin Amerman presently teaches anatomy and physiology at Florida State College - Jacksonville. She has been involved in anatomy and physiology education for more than 14 years as an author and professor. She received a B.S. in cellular and molecular biology from the University of West Florida and a Doctorate in Podiatric Medicine from Des Moines University. Dr. Amerman is the author of the best-selling Exploring Anatomy and Physiology in the Laboratory series with Morton Publishing Company, and of the textbook Human Anatomy and Physiology with Pearson Education (to be released in January 2015). She is deeply committed to helping her students succeed in the A&P course, and generating curiosity and excitement about the material and its application in their future careers.

Dr. Amerman is a member of HAPS, and enjoys attending the annual HAPS conferences, especially when they are in locations that have ample hiking opportunities and many different species of snake. When she is not writing or in the classroom, Dr. Amerman enjoys spending time with her family and her menagerie of rescued cats, dogs, pet rats, snakes, tetras, and a turtle. She also practices karate and kobudo (she will earn her second-degree black belt in April of 2015), and enjoys photographing the local wildlife around her home in rural northern Florida. She can often be found hiking around the prairie with a camera and snake hook in hand.
